

Announcement

EMC Test Design, LLC announces "My Way Video"
- a call for videos, showing the use of Smart Fieldmeter®, Smart Fieldmeter® Digital and Omnifield Antenna® products.

Dear EMC Test Design, LLC product user:

Our company has been working hard to develop and bring to you the high quality affordable professional field meters and antennas. We are receiving a lot of feedback, sometimes with photos and videos that users like you are making, showing our equipment used in your application.

We would like to advertise our products - the way YOU use them - by compiling the videos of real field/lab use - to promote the sales and share the various aspects of applications between the users.

We invite you to participate in "My Way Video"!

Make a short or long videos, demonstrating the setups, field/labs settings environment - anything, that can enrich our common knowledge of product applications and/or provide some educational or even - entertainment value. Provide your comments, tell us - what you like or don't! Show how you do the measurements, download or log the test results, operate your manual or automatic test system, etc.

We will use editors to organize the material by its content into series of short videos that will be placed at our web site and other media outlets like Youtube, etc.

Please, do NOT use any proprietary materials of the companies or its clients that cannot be widely distributed.

All entries should be accompanied by the letter stating that you are the owner of the video, it has no information that can be objected by your employer or clients and that you give EMC Test Design, LLC all rights to use this video in whole or in part for the purpose stated above.

In order to provide some financial incentives to this event, we are offering the following rewards:

1. Every participant, presenting video entries, gets 5% (five percent) discount for all purchases, made from the date of entry until June 1, 2011.
2. The best three videos (as judged by our staff) in addition to the discount will receive cash awards:
Third place - $100,
Second place - $200,
First place - $300.

The last day of entry is October 31'st (you have more than three month).

Send videos, sized to <10MB, to: exid@emctd.com

We will appreciate if you let us know that you are going to participate in advance, but all entries made prior to the deadline date will be accepted.

Regards,

Management Staff
